

INDUSTRIAL MARKET OVERVIEW

ALEX POPOVICH, Vice President

Despite last year's turn of events, the overall climate for Charleston's Industrial Market remains red hot. Competition is strong for leasing & sales as our vacancy rate continues to drop due to heavy demand for Class "A" and refurbished Class "B" & "C" product. With the new Hugh K. Leatherman Port Terminal open, demand for industrial space will greatly increase as the Port anticipates our market will need a minimum 3.3M square feet of industrial space delivered each year for the next 10 years to keep up with current activity. Having major companies such as Walmart and Volvo announce expansions in our market continues to prove that Charleston is a key location for development and growth on the East Coast.
