

MULTIFAMILY MARKET OVERVIEW

ROBERT LEVEEN, Senior Vice President

As anticipated, bolstered by the majority of LA County residents having been vaccinated, asking rents are starting to increase and market vacancy is now in a downward trend. As of June 15, the governor officially declared the state reopened. Continued low interest rates and liquidity are supporting the demand for investors to acquire multifamily properties. This demand continues in the face of the LA County Supervisors extending the eviction moratorium until September 30, 2021. Additionally, the moratorium extension relief is coupled with the governor's plan to use federal funds to cover all the pandemic caused back rent owed by low income tenants. It will be interesting to see how this all unwinds after the aid packages terminate.
